Results From the Community Asset Survey: Douglas County March 2021

Marlene Rebori, Community Development Specialist Joseph Lednicky, Economist II

Introduction

The Nevada Economic Assessment Project (NEAP) is a statewide Extension program aimed at providing a baseline repository of socio-economic data for each county in Nevada. One component of NEAP includes a community asset mapping workshop conducted with community leaders and residents. The asset mapping component includes a community workshop, followed by an online community asset survey. The online survey is an opportunity to provide broader community participation, beyond the workshop participants, to help identify community assets.

As part of the NEAP process, the community asset workshop for Douglas County was held virtually with county officials and interested community members on April 2, 2021. The community asset mapping component of NEAP is a "snapshot of assets." It is not a full inventory of every asset that exists or is desired in the county. A snapshot provides a broad overview of the key assets in the community, at this moment in time (hence a baseline). Asset mapping is a positive way to promote and think about one's community and can typically serve as a starting point for further discussions of possible actions and initiatives.

Asset mapping is a process to create awareness of local resources. Its intended purpose is for community members to recognize what their community already has while noting desired additions to their community. Typically, when community members gather, people begin by listing all the problems or needs within the community. When members begin with identifying needs first, they see an endless list of problems. Funding often tends to go to outside service providers, and residents view themselves and their community as deficient. As a result. residents can feel as though they are victims who lack the capacity to make change happen within their own community (Kretzman and McKnight 1993).

However, if residents focus first on assets and strengths within the community, they are far more likely to be committed to investing in their communities and use existing strengths to address needs. Empirical evidence strongly suggests community economic development is more successful when people are willing to commit to investing in themselves and their resources (Burkett 2011; Underwood and Friesner 2017). Communities that focus on assets first are more able to effectively address needs by partnering with outside entities to leverage the resources and assets within the community (Kretzman and McKnight 1993; Pitzer and Streeter 2015).

Hence, successful community development must begin within the community itself. Results from the Douglas County Community Asset Survey are provided in this special publication to provide a snapshot of existing and desired assets as provided by Douglas County residents.

Survey Results

Following the virtual community asset mapping workshop on April 2, 2021, an online community asset survey was open in Survey Monkey from April 5, 2021, until May 10, 2021. Links to the survey were made available on the NEAP website and the Douglas County website.

A total of 76 residents (n=77) completed the online community asset survey for Douglas County. A majority of survey respondents were women (62.34%) compared to men (%) Ages of respondents included a crosssampling of adults, with the highest responses (44.74%) within the age category 65+ years, followed by 22.3% responding in the age category of 55-64 years. The online survey is not intended to be a complete inventory of all assets in Douglas County but rather a snapshot of assets identified by residents at this point in time.

Respondents who provided input into the survey were from all six zip codes in Douglas County as well as three zip codes from neighboring Carson City.

Zip Code	City	Survey Responses	Percent
89460	Gardnerville	20	26.3%
89410	Gardnerville	18	23.7%
89423	Minden	15	19.7%
89411	Genoa	4	5.3%
89448	Zephyr Cove	4	5.3%
89449	Stateline	3	3.9%

Table 1. Douglas County Community Assets Respondent Zip Code Distribution, 2021

Respondents were asked on the survey to share, "In one word, what is something you would like to brag about your community?" The following word cloud (Figure 1) reflects respondents' one word to brag about their community. The larger the word in the word cloud, the more often the word was used from residents on the survey. Therefore, the more frequently it was cited, the larger the word appears.

The process used to identify assets was grouped into six categories. These six categories were provided to residents during the community workshop and in the online survey as a framework to think about assets. The six asset categories are based on the seven community capitals (Flora and Flora 2013). The seven community capitals (i.e., built, natural, political, social, natural, human and cultural) are commonly identified as the ecosystem of a healthy community. The community capitals approach builds on the notion that all communities have assets. These assets may be inactive, or they may be invested to create more assets or leveraged to help fill gaps in the community.

Respondents were asked to provide what assets exist currently and what assets they desire for each of the six categories. The six asset categories can be fluid, implying the categories themselves are not the focus, but rather it is the the identification of the asset itself that is most important. For example, residents may identify a desired asset to have "reliable broadband." This asset can be identified under the category of Play, Economic or Values. The six categories of assets are identified as follows.

- 1. Values
- 2. People
- 3. Places
- 4. Play
- 5. Economic
- 6. Group

Examples of values may include "safe community," "a small-town feel" or "rural values." Community values are important because values are the foundation to a community, and local decisions often reflect these core values. Table 2 outlines existing and desired assets of values as identified by workshop participants in Douglas County. To be respectful of participants who completed the online survey, all comments (verbatim) are included in Table 2, regarding values as assets.

Every community has special places where people come together. Community is about coming together, and the places where people congregate are spaces for building community. These places may serve as a microcosm of community. Places can also add to a community's identity through a historic building or traditional stories about the community. #### 4) Play:

Play is an important part of life for all of us, from children to adults. Play gives us the time and space to meet and socialize with others, and improves our physical and mental health and our overall quality of life. The evidence outlining the benefits of play in the development of young children is overwhelming. Likewise, the value of play from children to adults offers wide benefits for a community. Locations for play are often seen as a focal point for communities. They offer opportunities for social interaction for the wider community, support the development of a greater sense of community spirit and promote social cohesion. Table 5 outlines existing and desired assets of play as identified by workshop participants in Douglas County. To be respectful of participants who completed the online survey, all comments (verbatim) are included in Table 5, regarding play as assets.

5) Economic:

Communities have economic power in local businesses. This power includes who they hire, what they purchase, what skills they teach and what resources they offer. Revitalizing a community's economic life is at the very center of local economic development. Communities have many steps to rebuilding the local economy, and it begins by recognizing the local institutions and organizations that exist. Table 6 outlines existing and desired economic assets as identified by workshop participants in Douglas County. #### 6) Groups:

Groups and organizations are the foundation to a community's social fabric. Linkages and networks among community groups create social capital. Community groups (whether formal or informal) can often serve as the avenue for creating social trust, build relationships, and connect networks among community members. Involvement in these groups builds individual skills and increases involvement in community associations. Those involved in groups often help "fill the gaps" in a community and take on leadership roles. Table 7 outlines existing and desired groups as assets as identified by workshop participants in Douglas County. To be respectful of participants who completed the online survey, all comments (verbatim) are included in Table 7, regarding groups as assets.

Comments
Yes stop building and letting so many move here. Are community was nice but now you see so much more crime. It was never like that before the 3 or 4 years but very bad this year. It sucks to see such a great town go to crap because are board thinks it would be great to move California to Gardnerville.
It's just Ruining a small-town that was a great place to raise your kids and family in bur not anymore;(
Yes stop the growth. And address the heavy traffic growing through our neighborhood on riverview Speeders going 50 daily all day in a 25 zone!!!
It's getting dangerous with the amount of sex offenders on the streets. I wish kids were safe to play outside without constant supervision. The sex offenders, drugs and alcohol are at unacceptable levels.
We have a need to expand our community involvement in local arts, we need a space dedicated to holding events besides the CVIC hall.
The public library is a true asset to the community that needs to be noted in the above charts
Thank you for doing this!
keep it rural.
I feel safe living in Gardnerville.
Need more open air restaurants
The potential for arts to have an impact on revitalizing our downtown areas has been overlooked for years. Greater emphasis is needed on focusing on the arts, arts groups and art venues. Art activities and events give people a reason to go out and support our cultural groups, restaurants, galleries and retail shops

Downtown corridors need to be walkable and more pedestrian friendly. Transportation through Minden and Gardnerville needs to be addressed to better support town plazas, patio dining and public art.

I moved here because it is SMALL. We simply do not have the infrastructure nor the resources to continue to grow (e.g. water, affordable housing, well paying jobs). We need to look at these things before building more housing at $500k and depleting our water supplies.

Please help keep Douglas county clean & free of homeless camps. I come from a place that started like Douglas county and became ruined by homeless camps & garbage. Please try and keep the county small & not become over crowded!

PLEASE keep douglas county rural. we can bring tourism dollars without destroying our rural lifestyle and PLEASE do NOT remove our wild horses! people ALL over the world know and LOVE them!

We need to recruit and engage lifelong citizens or citizens residing in Douglas county for 20+ years to sustain and protect independent ways of life and values community was built on.

Topaz lake has no fire protection. We have to wait for TRE or Antelope Valley to respond both of which are to late to do much of anything but watch it burn. The roads are also a mess and badly need resurfacing, and this includes all the roads, all of which have been proven dedicated, including those which are currently dirt. Patching the holes does no good, since running over the patch with their truck is not enough to compact the patch and it just breaks up.

I love my home. I want to share it and keep it safe.

Do not be a litter bug!

I hate what our county has become with all the transplants and traffic.

Balancing open space and redevelopment not OVER-DEVELOPMENT a necessity. We should not aspire to be like nearby Carson City or Reno

Keep it rural and slow growth.

Douglas County is needs to focus more on infrastructure before building more homes

please keep our rural atmosphere

We need knowledgeable elected and appointed leadership.

I love our trails & open spaces

Too conservative politically.

it has the potential to be so much more than a ranchers paradise

More trails needed for horses

Sadly, recent intolerance and righteousness of some groups is making Douglas County less attractive.

More trails!

it's getting too crowded!! Too many new businesses that are duplicated in the community - how many banks, fast food, gas stations etc do we need. too many chains, not enough unique new businesses (food, shopping, etc.)

Nice community, although a little short on commerce.

Please don't make Nevada like California. Unfortunately I see that happening. :(

I agree with most of the already enumerated advantages and needs.

Moved here in 2009 and very happy we did.

We need to keep building and urban sprawl to a minimum and monitor water availability. We needs more trails and access to hiking and biking areas. Easily accessed trails are of the utmost important to me.

Save these historical buildings. Stop tearing them down for parking lots or another tire store

We used to appreciate the friendly people here, until we learned how bigoted they are against newcomers, especially those from California; & how ignorant and narrow-minded they are. Perhaps better education should be included in the survey.

I love the potential for activities but it's not easy for young people without transportation. There aren't safe ways to get around the valley on a bike.

Dont fall victim to the temptation to allow too much housing development and completely ruin the small town community that is now barely hanging by a thread. Or is it too late?

Please find away to make the traffic on 395 easier . So difficult to go to businesses .

Snapshot of Assets

As stated earlier in this document, asset mapping is a process to create awareness of local resources and strengths. Its intended purpose is for community members to recognize what their community already has while noting desired additions to their community. Identifying community assets is an important process in driving local economic development (Burkett 2011). To create a "snapshot of assets" across each category, comments were qualitatively grouped into key themes. Themes were identified based on survey responses for each of the six asset categories. Participant comments, as listed in Tables 2-7, were reviewed and categorized into dominant themes based on similarity of responses.

Developing themes from qualitative survey responses required responses to be reviewed and coded. Similar coded responses were grouped together to create a theme (i.e., the individual responses of all the service and civic clubs listed were placed under a general theme of "Service/Civic Clubs" to reflect a broader theme). The higher frequency of coded response per theme is reflected by a sequence of listing for each asset. A snapshot of assets listing the top three existing and desired assets for each category is provided in Tables 9-14 and summarized below.

Limitations

A few significant limitations need to be noted in this report. First, a very small percentage of residents completed the online community asset survey (n=77) out of a county population of 49,870 (U.S. Census 2021). Additional limitations to the survey are a majority of those who did complete the survey were female (62.34%) versus male (29.87%), and over 66% of respondents were within the age range of 55 to 65+ years of age. All nine registered zip codes in Douglas County were represented by survey respondents. Given these limitations to the community asset survey, the results are a first step in identifying existing and desired assets within the community. However, the snapshot of assets identified in this report can be used as a starting point for discussion among a more diverse set of residents with local decisionmakers to explore how existing and desired assets can guide economic development decisions.

Conclusion and Next Steps

Asset mapping is an important tool to assist communities in identifying resources and strengths that currently exist, and it can help reveal desired assets that residents believe should be improved upon to help drive local change in their community. The information provided in this report reflect results from the Douglas County Community Asset Survey, in connection with the Nevada Economic Analysis Baseline Report. Both of these reports are tools that can be used to help inform and guide local decisionmaking for economic development and to understand what residents value and desire in the community.
